Taste This; was born in the fall of 1995. They are a group of four writers and performers who alone or in various combinations, tell stories, play the violin, drum and tin whistle, sometimes sing and sort of dance. We produce and direct all our own material.

Boys Like Her

Press Gang Publishers (Edited by Persimmon Blackbridge) Taste This's first book, a collection of short stories and vignettes by each of the four members. Boys Like her is based on material written originally for performance.
