MONDO ARTIE ESPISODE #6070 - THE SLEUTH LIPS REPORT

Glenn Lewis and cast appearing at 8:30 pm

The script was originally written (or in place of) an essay on performance art in the 60s and 70s for "Live at the End of the Century; Aspects of Performance Art in Vancouver", a catalogue produced by grunt gallery in 2000. It was revised for live performance and perhaps could be characterized as a retrospective performance, if such a thing could exist. The script documents in true TV style the adventures of Sleuth Lips, an FBI agent, who blunders through the performance art scene in Vancouver during the 60s and 70s looking for draft dodgers. In the end he comes to a greater understanding of himself and of art.
