SUBJECT: The Benefits of Parks & Recreation

Often we forget about the benefits of parks and recreation. I thought it appropriate for the new Committee to review the benefits. These benefits come as a result of a project done by the CPRA, (Canadian Parks & Recreation Association). I would like to spend some time, at the first Parks & Recreation Committee meeting, dealing with these.

RE: City Owned Lots - South of Fox Park

DATE: November 3, 1992
FILE: City Property

Mr. Gordon Heath, a resident at 2721 Davies Avenue, recently expressed concerns to our department about several City-owned lots directly south of Fox Park and fronting on Fox Street. He was concerned that the City has not yet formally taken action to enlarge the park space through consolidating, rezoning and designating the lots as "Park".

Would you please bring this matter to the attention of the Parks Committee to determine whether such actions are forthcoming.

Thank you.

Dear Committee:

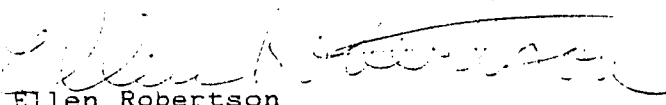

On December 12, 1992, the Quick Steppers Round Dance Club will be hosting WINTERLUDE at the Hyde Creek Gym. This event is being held to assist the Tri-cities Share Christmas Bureau with their annual Toys For Tots collection.

Participants will be asked to bring a new toy to the dance and all proceeds will be donated to the Share food hamper program. The Coquitlam Safeway store will be donating the refreshments that will be served during the evening program.

We would like to ask the Parks and Recreation Committee to help us with this project by "forgiving" the rental fee for the hours booked for this event.

On behalf of all those working on this project, I would like to thank you for your consideration of our request.

Very sincerely yours,

RE: Winterlude, December 12, 1992

Plans are shaping up for the upcoming WINTERLUDE. Hopefully everyone is working hard at getting some support from your dancers and friends.

Tickets are now available with a big THANK YOU to John Corrigan for getting them prepared and printed. We will also be selling tickets at the door, but if you can get a committment from the dancers ahead of time, all the better.

Darlene Penny has worked out the details for the CRAFT FAIR that will be a part of the evenings fun and festivities. We have some very nice things being offered this year. The WESBURN WRANGLERS will be hosting the "Bake Sale" table as a fund raiser for their club activities.

Among the corporate sponsorship we have received are:

- Safeway - Coffee, tea and all associated supplies
- Overwaitea - Christmas oranges and rolls
- McDonald's - Orange Drink
- Art Knapp's Plantland - Poinsettias for Door Prizes
- Lumberland - Christmas Trees (2) for Door Prizes
- Eaton's - $10.00 gift certificate for Door Prize
- Haida - Printing at reduced rates
- Andres Wines - Door Prize
- Wilson Center Seniors - Cookies

Also, we have made arrangements for an exhibition of Western Dancing by a competition team from North Vancouver, the BLUE RIDGE DANCERS during the intermission.

The project coordinator from the Share Foundation, Lisa Merrick, is taking time out from her busy schedule to be on hand during the evening to say "Thanks" to the dancers for their "TOYS FOR TOTS" contributions.

The program is being worked on (by myself) and should be available soon. Thanks very much to all of you for donating your time to this worthwhile project and we look forward to seeing you on the 12th.

RE: Meridian Industrial Park Phase II - Boulevard Landscaping

I am referring the attached materials to you for consideration by the Parks and Recreation Committee.

Mr. Keith Beedie contacted me yesterday and feels that the City should consider installing an automatic sprinkling system on Kebet Way to maintain the landscaping The Beedie Group is providing on both sides of the Boulevard.

Mr. Beedie's original request was turned down by the Public Works Committee.

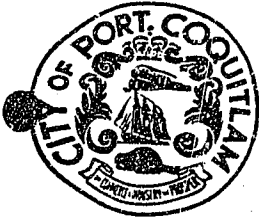

Thank you.

Dear Sirs:

SUBJECT: Meridian Industrial Park Phase II
Boulevard Landscaping - Request for Automatic Sprinkler System

This letter is in response to your request of September 17, 1992 regarding the above.

The Public Works Committee at their regular meeting of October 20, 1992 discussed your request for the installation of a sprinkler system to help maintain the boulevard area. Following a review and discussion of a report prepared by the Project Technician it was concluded that your request be denied. Boulevard sprinkler systems are not required as part of landscaping for a development. However, this does not preclude you from installing a system if you wish, providing it is approved by the Planning Department. Please contact the Planning Department if you wish to pursue your proposal.

Thank you for your interest in this matter.

Attention: Mayor and Council

Re: Meridian Industrial Park Phase II
Boulevard Landscaping

Dear Mayor and Council:

There is a rather peculiar set of circumstances in regard to the boulevard landscaping in Phase II in the fact that only one side of the street will have lots with individual owners who will maintain their boulevard along with their own landscaping. The boulevard on the other side of the street borders the dyke walkway.

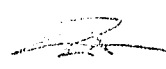

In keeping with the boulevard treatment in Phase I, we are voluntarily planting trees on both sides of Kebet Way through Phase II at a cost of approximately $20,000.00.

As there will be no one to water the boulevard along the dyke, we are quite concerned that the grass will not grow properly and will look shabby.

The purpose of this letter is to request Council's consideration to installing an automatic sprinkler system to address these concerns. We have requested this from your staff, however, it has been rejected. A very rough estimate of the cost for this work would be somewhere between $11,000.00 and $13,000.00, depending on water pressure and electrical costs.

Although this may seem an unwarranted expense, we would respectfully point out that when Phase II has been completed, there should be an increase in tax revenue to Port Coquitlam of somewhere around $500,000.00 per annum.

September 17, 1992.

As can be readily seen in Phase I, it is our goal to develop a smart and aesthetically pleasing Industrial Park, of which both Port Coquitlam and ourselves can be proud. It would be a shame to have the appearance marred by brown and dying grass.

We would respectfully request that Council give due consideration to this proposal and we look forward to an affirmative reply.

Yours truly,

Dear Janna:

Re: Pitt River Road
Unimproved Road Allowance
Our File 19-70

Further to your memorandum of November 10, we have reviewed the plans showing the unopened portion of the Pitt River Road allowance adjacent to the Pitt River. You have enquired what action must be taken to ensure that the road allowance is not vulnerable to cancellation and transfer to the owners of neighbouring properties pursuant to Part 8 of the Land Title Act.

Although there has been discussion of legislation which may be introduced in 1993 to make it more difficult for adjacent owners to obtain unused road allowances, at present such allowances are vulnerable and will remain so for the foreseeable future. We recommend that the City take the following steps in order to ensure retention of the Pitt River Road allowance:

1. A check should be carried out to ensure that no bylaw has been adopted under Section 578(1)(b) of the Municipal Act to "stop up and close to traffic" that portion of the road allowance which has not been improved. If such a bylaw exists, it should be repealed by a bylaw which authorizes the reopening of the highway to traffic.

2. Physical improvement and use of the highway as a highway (i.e., for the passage of pedestrians, horses, bicycles or motor vehicles) is the best means of ensuring that a highway is not cancelled by the Registrar. However, until such time as highway improvements are carried out, an unqualified direction by Council that improvements be made would be important in defending any plan cancellation application.
3. Accordingly, we recommend that Council be requested to adopt a resolution under Section 578(2)(a) of the Municipal Act, directing that the unimproved portion of Pitt River Road adjacent to the Pitt River be "improved" to standards set out in the resolution, "for the purpose of providing public highway access to the Pitt River and the river bank".
4. In Stevenson v. Surrey (Supreme Court of B.C., Vancouver Registry No. A891260, June 23, 1989); (B.C. Court of Appeal, Vancouver Registry No. CA011160, May 7, 1990) the court held that a highway which is improved for the purpose of "affording recreation in a mini-park like setting" and not for the purposes of "mundane passage" remains liable to cancellation. However, Surrey persisted and adopted a bylaw to improve its road ends to municipal highway standards. In Kehler and Stevenson v. Surrey (B.C. Court of Appeal, Vancouver Registry No. CA014153, July 29, 1992) the Court held that the principle arising from the earlier judgment was as follows:

"A municipality may not by the purported exercise of its highway reopening powers acquire land dedicated for highways to use as a park."

However, the Court held that the applicable principle:

"... is not that a municipality may not open a road allowance for the purpose of affording the public access to a view."

Thus even if there is no usage of the Pitt River Road end for access to and from the river, access to the river bank for the purposes of viewing the river should be sufficient. The court concluded by stating:

"A road is a highway whether it goes to a view, the foot of a mountain, or the seashore."

If the resolution confirms that the purpose of opening the Pitt River is to create public access to the Pitt River and the banks of the Pitt River, Council's decision to open the road should not be vulnerable to attack.

5. If unallocated funds for highway improvement are available in the City's budget, the resolution should allocate a specified amount of those funds. If no such funds are available, the City's budget should be amended to include an item for improvement of Pitt River Road.
6. At a minimum, the improvements should include the eventual clearing and surfacing of a pathway at least 8 metres wide. It is not necessary that the highway be paved but gravel or other surfacing should be laid down. Access for motor vehicles is not mandatory.
7. It is possible to stage the improvements over two or more years but it is preferable that some work begin in the next few weeks. Evidence that the City is proceeding with a definite program of improvements and that work has begun should be sufficient to defend any plan cancellation application.

HARRISON: THE GREAT ESCAPE

PROGRAM DESCRIPTIONS

Thursday, January 14, 1993

10:30 a.m. - 12:45 p.m.

□ Can we be Principle-Centered and Pragmatic in the Reality of the 90's?

Are our Parks and Recreation leadership and organizational principles being battered by the SCUD missiles of scarcer resources and revenue driven budgets? How are you steering your organizations through these pressures? Beginning with a presentation of Covey's "Principle-Centered Leadership", we will discuss situations and experiences in which principle-centered leadership has conflicted with or enhanced our solutions.

Facilitator: Kevan Tisshaw, Recreation Manager, North Vancouver Recreation Commission

□ Go for Gold: Planning without Research is like Competing without Training

How well do you know your market? When can inexpensive research methods be used, and what are some of the techniques? When is it appropriate to engage the services of a marketing research consultant?

If you've ever asked these questions, this working session is for you. Participants will have an opportunity to exchange information on methods they have used, and discuss their information with a recognized expert in the field.

Facilitator: Ana Wiggins, President, Points of View Research and Consulting

□ Foundations, Fundraising and Municipal Leisure Services

Fundraising, or resource development in its broadest sense, has become a standard activity in most Parks and Recreation agencies across North America. The benefits are significant both from a monetary and a community development perspective, and it is difficult to find many organizations which don't have at least a few "fundraising" success stories.

The session will explore the use of a Foundation to focus resource development efforts in a community, address key "fundraising" questions and draw on the group's experience to generate a list of success stories and potential resources.

Facilitator: Mike Murray, Director of Parks and Recreation, Maple Ridge

2:30 p.m. - 4:45 p.m.

□ Lasting Legacies

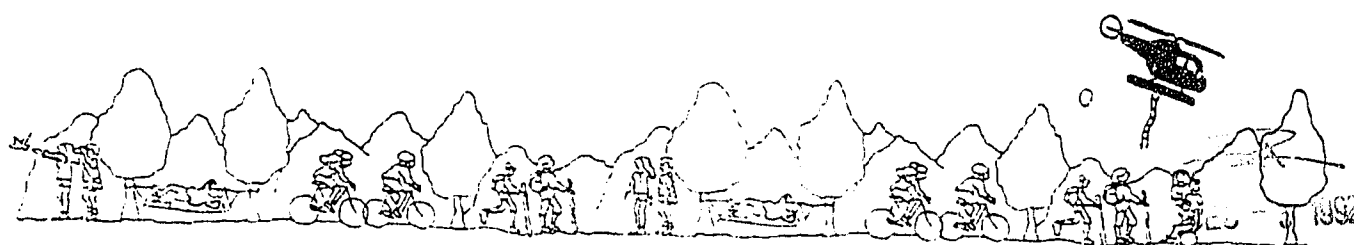

In recent years large numbers of communities in British Columbia have hosted a variety of "major" activities, resulting in a legacy of human talent, financial resources and facilities. In this session, participants will have the opportunity to share their experiences - positive and otherwise - and to learn the best way that they can take advantage of special events in their communities.

Facilitator: Roger Skillings, Executive Director, B.C. Summer and Winter Games Society

□ Healthy Communities/Active Living

Parks and Recreation Departments are increasingly seen as leaders in the Healthy Communities and Active Living movement. In British Columbia, several municipalities, large and small, have been established as "models" in which leisure services and other agencies work together toward an improvement of all aspects of community living. In this session, participants will learn more about making your community a healthy place to live, and share common experiences about Active Living.

Facilitator: Anne Morrison, Recreation Manager, Langley

2:30 p.m. – 4:45 p.m.

☐ Women in Non-Traditional Roles

Men are not obsolete! But they are having to get used to sharing those jobs which have for decades (and in some cases centuries) been reserved for the male alone. Women are taking an interest in, and demanding entry to the bastions of Municipal Service where they have never been seen before. Some communities are working with both men and women to ease that process, but also to ensure that it does happen. It is often an enlightening and sometimes emotional process. Come and share your experiences and perhaps some of your preconceived notions.

Facilitator: Judy Rogers - Director, Equal Employment Opportunity Program, Vancouver

Friday, January 15, 1993

9:30 a.m. – 11:45 a.m.

☐ Your Commission or Mine?

There are a variety of Parks and Recreation Commissions in British Columbia, all of which undoubtedly have certain advantages and disadvantages. In this session, you will have the opportunity to explore some of those things that work well (and not so well), and to seek solutions to the problems and occasional frustrations that you might experience.

Facilitators: Tim Woods, City Administrator, and Barry Reid, Leisure Services Manager, Penticton

☐ The Politics of Being a Department Head

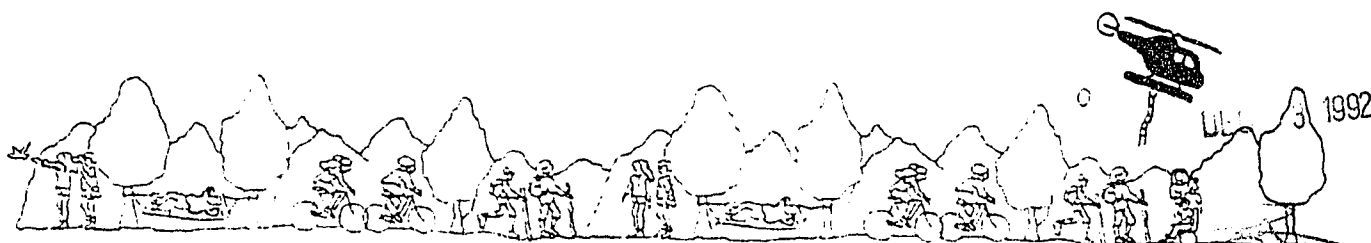

The role of the civil servant in the British tradition is strongly apolitical, and this remains the ideal. But inevitably, however, the senior administrators in a municipal setting are compelled to base many of their decisions on the nature of the Council for which they work and the scheduling of issues preferred by that Council. In addition, staff are seen as the more accessible agents of Council and, as a result, are in the front line with the public and the press, trying to maintain their own integrity on the one hand, but not compromising the role of their Council on the other. It can be a difficult dance. This session examines the experience from a variety of perspectives.

Facilitator: Dave Kendal, Mayor, District of Matsqui

☐ Staff Training and Development: Be Prepared

Every department has one or more rising stars - people, who might even be able to handle your job - in the future! Do you have a system in place that will be of benefit to those who you supervise, that will help them achieve optimum levels of performance, as well as learn what they must do to reach the level of Department Head? Come prepared to share your thoughts and opinions on this vitally important topic.

Facilitator: Eric McCormick, Director of Parks and Recreation, Port Alberni
